Social Relief of Distress reaches more communities

By Witness Tiva

Limpopo MEC for Social Development Nkakareng Rakgoale in October visited the Greater Tzaneen and Letaba Municipalities to provide relief in the form of food parcels, school uniforms and other basic amenities to two families that have lost their houses due to fire and to one child-headed household. This was part of the department's social relief of distress program aimed at supporting families during this difficult period as well as other crisis situations. MEC Rakgoale said social workers were to remain with the affected families to provide them with support until their lives were restored.

GLENCORE BRINGS HOPE TO LIMPOPO

By Adèle van der Linde

Significantly, during the month of October, the Head of Department Mr. Desmond Mahopo, delivered a message of support at the sod-turning ceremony of the R4 million Dilokong Thuthuzela Care Centre building site, donated by Glencore Alloys SA. The site is on the premises of the Dilokong Hospital in the Sekhukhune District, Fetakgomo-Tubatse Municipality.

Thuthuzela Care Centres are hubs for addressing Gender Based Violence, that care for victims and ensure successful prosecution of the perpetrators of GBV and especially rape.

The funding of this new centre is Glencore's answer to calls by communities for such facilities and further comes on the back of President Cyril Ramaphosa's undertaking of the funding of crisis centres for GBV.

Mr. Mahopo in his message on behalf of MEC Nkareng Rakgoale, indicated that incidents of GBV in Limpopo are not only devastating for the moral fibre of society, but is also costing the country billions. He stated that the Dilokong Thuthuzela Care Centre should be staffed and utilised to the full by all partners involved.

Glencore Alloys SA is a commodity trading mining company with operations across Limpopo, Mpumalanga and the North West Provinces and the donation is part of the company's Corporate Social Responsibility Department led by the Chief Corporate and Social Responsibility Officer, Conroy Van Der Westhuizen.

The event was also graced by Fetakgomo-Tubatse Local Municipality Mayor Cllr. Ralepane Mamekoa who delivered the keynote address as well as representatives of the NPA, Department of Health and SAPS.

Families Matter

In a significant ceremony for the Families Matter Programme, which is an initiative of the Limpopo Department of Social Development, 50 citizens from all walks of life graduated from the Programme on 15th November 2021. The Programme is aimed at imparting care givers and parents with social skills that are facilitated through six interactive sessions. Some of the core topics which were touched on during the sessions include parenting skills, educating children about sexuality and skills in discussing sex with children in a broader context. Ms. Martha Sekhuto who is one of the Programme participants said that the implementation of this initiative has vastly changed their lives as they are now able to confidently spark critical conversations with their children on issues that are often regarded as uncomfortable or taboo to discuss.

The graduation and certification ceremony was conducted at Mamoriswane, Mmotong village just outside of Polokwane in the Capricorn District. In attendance were the Department of Social Development representatives, a member of the local traditional council, various Programme leaders and the Families Matter Programme participants. Over 50 participants who completed the Programme received certificates of recognition on the day. Ms. Mkhabela who is one of the Pro-programme facilitators urged the graduating class to take it upon themselves in ensuring that the skills they have acquired are transmitted to their various places of residence so that the knowledge does not only become limited to them but to those around them as well. Ms. Patricia Ntjie speaking on behalf of the Department expressed words of gratitude to the men who participated as she said that it is unlikely to find men engaging and taking part in such socially restorative movements. She furthermore encouraged the graduating participants to invite other individuals so that the Programme can gain more momentum in reaching greater heights in its impact.

Restorative Justice Week

By Khutšo Molokela

The Limpopo Department of Social Development launched Restorative Justice Week at the Ravele Community hall, in Tshilwavhusiku under the Makhado Local Municipality. The Launch was officiated by MEC for Social Development Mme. Nkakareng Rakgoale on the 21st of November 2021 as a key role to raise awareness on finding amicable ways to deal with crime offenders in a morally humane way as well as to offer the victims thereof support and closure through activities that minimize the trauma caused by crime. The event attracted a number of representatives from various organizations and sectors such as the South Africa Police Services, members of the local traditional council as well as representatives from the South African correctional Services. Prof. Ann Skelton from the University of Pretoria also gave an insightful look into probation services, mentioning that Charlotte Maxeke, who was celebrated in 2021, was a probation officer with a passion for her work.

The week showcases government services aimed at giving support to both victims and perpetrators of crime, reintegration of crime offenders back into society, as well as protecting children who are in conflict with the law. A civilian who was in conflict with the law during her childhood and now a social worker, provided a testimonial during the gathering whereby she expressed her gratitude for the social services and counseling she received during her correctional term. She alluded that had it not been for the restorative justice system that she went through, her life would still be entangled in acts of crime. She also encouraged those who are at the forefront of restorative justice to keep up the good course for moral regeneration.

Restorative Justice Week

MEC Rakgoale highlighted that the significance of hosting the launch in Tshilwavhusiku was also propelled by the growing numbers in acts of crime committed by children as young as ten years old in the area. The MEC furthermore stated that social ills are some of the contributing factors to the high number of contact crimes that are still persistent in the community. In her closing remarks, she made a call to communities, the civil society and individual community members to join hands with the government in order to build and nurture a crime free society.

Sanitary towels were also handed over to local schools, to leave a lasting legacy after the event.

Deputy Minister lets sex workers have their say

The Deputy Minister for Social Development, Ms. Hendrietta Bogopane Zulu, as part of World Aids Day build-up activities, had a dialogue with sex workers on 29th November 2021. The Deputy Minister and sex worker advocacy groups facilitated a robust engagement between sex workers, government, civil society, developmental partners and the general public about challenges that continue to plague the sex work trade.

Sex workers are a vulnerable group as defined in Goal 3 of the National Strategic Plan for HIV, TB and STIs. The Goal stipulates that, in order for the country to succeed in its quest to end HIV as a public health threat, all key and vulnerable populations such as sex workers need targeted interventions designed for challenges unique to them. The National Sex Worker HIV Plan also calls for similar interventions geared towards addressing structural drivers of HIV within the sex worker context.

This dialogues also took place during the 16 Days for No Violence against Women and Children campaign which is commemorated between 25 November and 10 December.

STOP THE VIOLENCE!

By Witness Tiva and Adéle van der Linde

Limpopo MEC for Social Development Nkakareng Rakgoale says government will only be able to clamp down on GBVF if civil society and individual community members can join hands in the fight against the scourge. MEC Rakgoale was speaking at Dark City village outside Burgersfort where she visited the family of six -year old Boithakgatso Komane who was raped and killed in December 2021. A 28-year old man was arrested and appeared in court.

In the same week, a 15-year old girl was also found murdered at Vhondwe village in the Vhembe District . “These incidents happen at the time the country is still commemorating 16 Days of Activism for No Violence Against Women and Children”, MEC Rakgoale said and urged all members of the public, men in particular, to come on board and shun GBVF as it violates the rights of women and children.

Earlier in the 3rd Quarter of 2021-22, angry Polokwane and Seshego residents gathered at the Seshego Magistrate’s Court where a suspected serial killer appeared for the first time. 34-year old Themba Dube admitted to murdering several women in and around Polokwane and pointed out seven scenes where the bodies of the women were dumped.

At Mosesetjane village outside Mokopane MEC visited the family of 25-year old Lebogang Matlou, who was brutally killed, allegedly by her boyfriend and another female suspect. Meanwhile, in a sad turn of events on Christmas Day, seven family members of the Ndou family were shot and killed allegedly by another family member in a family feud incident. In yet another incident, a 13-year old girl was raped, allegedly by a 74-year old man in Matswale township in Musina.

However, October 2021 will forever be remembered by Limpopo residents for the bold and perfectly executed kidnapping of three children of the Moti family, an affluent family who resides in Polokwane. The children were grabbed from the vehicle that was transporting them to school daily and their disappearance without a trace left South Africans countrywide on their knees, praying for the safe return of the children. The children were left, unscathed, next to the road in Vhembe, three weeks later.

Throughout the third quarter, social workers had their hands full in offering psychosocial support throughout the Province, as the scourge continued unabated. The high incidence of GBV and especially rape, led to an awareness campaign and community mobilisation on Gender Based Violence and Femicide being held at Mentz sports ground. MEC Nkakareng Rakgoale joined Transport and Community Safety MEC Mavhungu Lerule Ramakhanya and the SAPS at the event.
